Latest Information from CAPCA

UPDATED PRIVATE APPLICATOR CERTIFICATION GUIDANCE

The Department of Pesticide Regulation (DPR) revised regulations related to the certification and training of pesticide applicators in Title 3, California Code of Regulations (3 CCR) Division 6. The regulations become effective on January 1, 2024. The changes pertain to the certification of commercial and private pesticide applicators ("certified applicators"), development and submittal of continuing education (CE) courses required for license or certificate renewal, and supervision and training of non-certified applicators. The changes align California's applicator certification program with federal regulations found in Title 40, Code of Federal Regulations (40 CFR) Part 171.

JOIN THE CE COMMITTEE

We are excited to announce that the CAPCA state office will be reforming the CE Committee. The Committee tasks would consist of the following:

- Submitting "themes" for CE days of conferences - for example, a day of tech topics, an afternoon of water-related topics, a day of _____ related topics, also could be ideas for online only CE topics such as evergreen topics, PCA 101 type topics, etc.

- Submitting ideas for CE - this is already done by a variety of people which is great! But more is even better!

- Reviewing and advising on ideas that have been submitted and that we have organized into program agendas for Spring Summit, Annual Conference, and Online Only CE

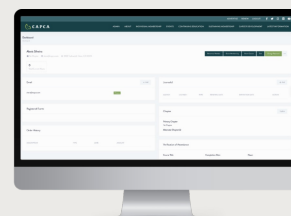

- Programs for Spring Summit and Annual Conference will still run through the Conference Committee before going to DPR

CAPCA ONLINE CE

CAPCA's mission is to serve as a leader in the industry and continue to provide quality continuing education. In a changing world, that mission and our service to members hasn't changed.

MAKING THE MOST OF YOUR CAPCA DASHBOARD

- This CE Committee will assist in reviewing Online CE and Evergreen Content before submitting it to DPR

We want to ensure that CE is as relevant as possible to our members for both current/hot topics and evergreen content types.

If you are interested in participating in this, please let us know. We appreciate your time and support of the continuing education programs. We plan to have our first meeting for the committee via Teams the week of August 21, 2023, to review the program for the Spring/Summer of 2024 before it goes to the Conference Committee.

Below is a link to a quick form for those interested in serving on this committee:

In June, CAPCA released our new member dashboard and website. We put together a few tips and tricks to help you make the most of your dashboard and membership.

-Use a personal email address: as jobs move and change you will still be able to access your dashboard without the hassle of resetting your email.

-Make sure your address listed is your mailing address: this helps us ensure that we can reach you effectively.

-Ensure your information is current and updated as changes occur.

The banner features the CAPCA logo (a stylized leaf) and the text: 'CAPCA AT THE CENTER OF PLANT HEALTH', 'STUDENT NETWORK EVENT', 'SUNDAY, OCTOBER 15, 2023', and '11:45 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. | CAPCA's Annual Conference in Reno, NV'.

CAPCA is thrilled to be hosting the Student Network Event again! This is THE event for students interested in a career as a Pest Control Adviser. At the CAPCA Annual Conference, we connect students throughout California with professionals in all aspects of the industry to provide career insights, share their real-life experiences on the job, and provide training specific to the agricultural sector.

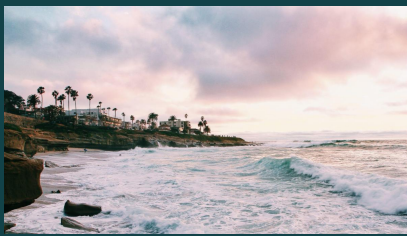

For sponsors looking to support an event that focuses on the future of the agricultural industry and helping to build this experience, please reach out to Katelyn@capca.com.
